

BROOKLYN NEWS.

HOT AFTER M'KANE.

Brooklyn's Citizens' Committee Organized for Business.

Contributions from the Masses to Further Punishment.

Mass-Meeting at the Academy of Music Monday Night.

Could John Y. McKane see the hundreds of letters piled high on the desk of Judge-elect William J. Gaynor, in Brooklyn, and the hundreds of others received by the different members of the Citizens' Committee, organized to prosecute him, the self-satisfied smile which he is trying to wear would quickly disappear.

The letters come from every section of Brooklyn, from all classes of people, representing every shade of politics. One and all demand swift punishment of the Gravesend chieftain and his satellites.

With every letter comes a remittance in amounts ranging from $1 to $100 to help defray the expenses. These smaller sums are even more welcome than such contributions as $100,000 which indicate a general desire to punish the county.

The committee has not yet proposed to lose an instant in pushing the work. It was found that the large committee would be too unwieldy. For this reason it was decided at the conference held in the Academy of Music last night to carry on a sub-committee to carry on the prosecution.

That sub-committee got down to business in the first thing this morning. The members present were Robert Bakewell, Benjamin F. Blair, William G. Low, S. L. Woodhouse, J. Warren Greene, A. L. Beasly and the Chairman, James McKane.

After a few minutes' conversation and the exchange of news and letters of the office of Mr. Gaynor in the Real Estate Exchange Building, the committee was promptly adjourned to the committee. Mr. Gaynor arrived at 10 o'clock. All the time he was in a conference behind closed doors.

In spite of the hard work performed by Mr. Gaynor during the past few days to make himself conversant with the McKane outrage in all its details, every provision of the penal code that could be construed as bearing upon the case has been gone over. Extracts from the code were put before the committee. The evidence in the case was sifted and as could possibly be done in the time at the committee's disposal and a complete program was arranged.

It was decided to hold a mass-meeting in the Academy of Music next Monday night. That gathering has already been secured for the purpose.

The following address was also drawn up and signed by every member of the committee present:

"To all who are interested in the purity of elections:

"The offenders against the laws in the recent election in Kings County will be prosecuted by the committee. It will be in an orderly manner, with the view of vindicating the laws and the rights of citizens. No compromise will be made. Every effort will be made to secure a verdict that will be a permanent and heavy expense have already been and must hereafter be incurred in the prosecution of these cases and in employing counsel.

"All who will subscribe for these purposes are invited to send their contributions to Gen. C. T. Christensen, President of the Brooklyn Trust Company, 177 Montague street, Brooklyn, to be used to serve as treasurer of the fund."

Contributions will also be received by the Brooklyn papers, except the Ring organ.

A full list of speakers at Monday night's meeting could not be given out for the reason that none save Mr. Gaynor has as yet been invited. He is considering the propriety of speaking, Seth Low will probably speak.

While the sub-committee is busy with the Gravesend frauds, the action of the Committee of One Hundred is busy with the election crimes committed generally throughout the city of Brooklyn. His office in the Germania building was like a beehive this morning. Complaints of all kinds were being received.

The latest outrage reported this morning shows what tricks the ringsters resorted to in the last campaign to avoid the landslide. The victim is Edward L. Wubber, a milk dealer, of 207 Ewen street. He had the temerity during the campaign to display a Schieren lithograph in his window. On Oct. 28 he was ordered by the Democratic captain of the district, Patrick Finnegan, to take the lithograph down. Finnegan's brother, who is on the police force, was recently made a detective-sergeant.

Wubber refused to take down the lithograph. Thereupon Finnegan said that he would arrest it. Two days later an inspector from the Health office arrived and took samples of the milk. He refused to say whether it was good or bad, nor did he comply with the request by destroying the milk and giving the dealer a sample.

Michael Indino, thirty-eight, of set Third avenue, Brooklyn, while intoxicated this morning, fell into the Coney Island Railroad car on Thirty-third street, and was killed. He was removed to the Coney Island Hospital.

Thomas Whelan, while repairing a skylight at 623 Halsey street, Brooklyn, this morning, fell from the roof and was injured.

The second free lecture of the Brooklyn Ethical Association course on "Life and the Conditions of the Future" will be given this evening in the Second Baptist Church, Clinton street, Brooklyn, at 8 o'clock. Forty Years Without a Stomach as Carlyle expressed it, is the experience of many people who reach middle life before their digestive organs loudly protest against improper food. Sooner or later the warning reaches most of us. Generally it first comes from food cooked with lard. How often we hear the remark, "I like it, but dare not eat it." To anyone in this common condition the new vegetable shortening, is indeed a boon. By the use of this new and wonderful food-product the disagreeable effects of lard-cooked food are altogether avoided, and the young, the delicate and dyspeptic are given access to the same bill of fare that the rest of the family enjoy. The features of economy, convenience and adaptability, emphasize the above, and demand the attention of the careful housekeeper everywhere to COTTOLENE. Try it in your home. Avoid imitations. AT EXACTLY HALF PRICE.

Our statement yesterday to the effect that all garments in our store would be offered at one-half the price marked was the means of crowding our store all afternoon. This does not seem unreasonable when the fact is made public that we are offering our entire stock at exactly one-half of the cost price. The stock consists of fine Overcoats, Ulsters, Business and Dress Suits, Men's Trousers, Boys' and Children's Suits, etc.; Men's Suits, original price $14.00, now selling for $7.00; Men's Overcoats, original $18.00, now selling for $9.00; Heavy Winter Overcoats, $20.00, now selling for $10.00; fine Ulsters, sold at $18.00, now only $9.00. KINKEL OR FITCHIE?

Both Sides Waiting for an Official Count in Kings.

Republicans and Democrats in Kings County are anxiously waiting for the completion of the official canvass of the votes cast for Supervisor-at-Large. On the face of the city returns, Thomas Fitchie, Republican, was supposed to have been elected. His election was even conceded by George Kinkel, his opponent.

Republicans, however, discovered that there was something suspicious about the holding back of the New Utrecht returns. The returns of the town were not sent to Brooklyn until late yesterday afternoon.

By the New Utrecht count Kinkel is elected by a small plurality. This then put water Mr. Fitchie's friends, as they claim it is impossible to count their candidate out, because in the returns from the Seventh Ward there is a mistake giving Kinkel over 1,000 votes which were cast for Fitchie.

At noon it appeared that the Seventh Ward gives Fitchie 4,252 and Kinkel 3,714. This will practically settle the doubt as to who is elected Supervisor-at-Large.

FROM ODD JOBS TO $2,000 A YEAR

Colored Man Nominated as a Joke Is Surely Elected.

When the ticket for the Eighth Ward, of Brooklyn, was made out, the Republicans found it impossible to induce any one to run for constable against J. J. Black.

Finally, in a fit of desperation, the name of John Dubel was placed on the ticket.

Dubel is a colored man, who did odd jobs about the ward. When he was nominated everybody, including the Democrats, considered it a joke. So did the colored candidates.

But now the Democrats think it is a serious affair, as it was settled beyond doubt that Dubel has been elected by a small plurality. The constable's job in this ward is worth about $2,000 a year.

Woman Reported Starving.

The Brooklyn police have been notified that a Mrs. Kaufmann, of 514 Flushing avenue, Brooklyn, is in a starving condition. Her rent is long overdue and she will be dispossessed unless it is paid at once.

The ceremony of unveiling the statue of Mgr. Satolli will take place on Sunday afternoon in the Church of Our Lady of Grace, Hoboken.

The statue, which is life size, is said to be very like Satolli, and is the work of Luigi, an Italian sculptor, Bishop Wigger, who has been invited to attend, has not yet signified his intention of doing so.

The ceremonies will begin at 3.30 o'clock. Dean McNulty, of Paterson, will unveil the statue. Father Malone, of Brooklyn, will deliver the oration, and Father Hennessy, of Jersey City, will pronounce the benediction.

WAS TZMULI MURDERED?

Said to Have Been Pushed in Front of a Train.

Frank Schudi, His Alleged Assailant, Is Under Arrest.

It is now thought that Frank Tzmul, of 51 Skidman avenue, Jersey City, who was struck by a Northern Railroad train near Secaucus last Monday, was murdered instead of being accidentally killed.

He was walking with Frank Schudi at the time. Both were natives of Poland. On Wednesday, two Poles, who work on a farm at Secaucus, called on Tzmul's brother, and told him that they saw Schudi deliberately push Tzmul under the track and in front of the train.

The police of New York and Jersey city were notified, and Central Office Detectives Medinunas and Nugent last night arrested Schudi in a Polish boarding-house at 1-12 Washington street, and this city.

The accused when arrested was taken to Police Headquarters, where he was locked up to await the action of the Jersey authorities, who, it is said, will call for the prisoner this afternoon.

It is alleged that the motive for the crime was robbery, and that $20 was taken from Tzmul's clothing.

SOPRANO AND DOMINIE'S WIFE.

Their Quarrel Said to Have Caused New Valentine's Resignation.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 10.—There is considerable comment in Bloomfield over the resignation of Rev. Henry W. Valentine as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in that village.

Mr. Valentine suddenly announced his intention to resign at the close of the service last Sunday. He did not explain his reasons.

It is said that a quarrel between the pastor's wife and Miss Radcliffe, of the First Twentieth street, New York, the leading soprano of the church, was the cause of Pastor Valentine's resignation. Some of the friends of the pastor make this assertion, while others support the story that Valentine was making up his mind to sever his connection with the church.

Pastor Valentine and his friends sided with Miss Radcliffe, while the soprano and her supporters sided with the pastor. The congregation took Miss Radcliffe's part.

It is alleged that when Miss Radcliffe heard Pastor Valentine announce his intention to resign, she walked haughtily down the centre aisle of the church whistling. Some of the friends of the pastor make this assertion, while others support the story that Valentine was making up his mind to sever his connection with the church.

The matter as to whether Pastor Valentine's resignation shall be accepted will come before the Presbytery at the regular meeting next Wednesday.

Retailing Clothing At Wholesale Prices

Means to those who are privileged to buy in this manner a greater saving, perhaps, than they imagine. To illustrate:

We are selling a very good Overcoat at $8. The retail price would be $12, and at that figure would be considered a bargain.

We are selling for $20 one of the long Poole Overcoats, "the latest cut." It is a garment that would sell at retail for $30.

We have $100,000 worth of Fall and Winter Clothing, consisting of Men's and Youths' Suits, Light and Heavy Weight Overcoats, Full Dress Suits, Trousers, Fancy Vests, &c., and on every garment there is a saving in proportion as illustrated above. Worth thinking about, isn't it? IF DISSATISFIED WITH PURCHASE, MONEY REFUNDED.

FOUND AFTER A LONG SEARCH.

Missing Maggie Crandall Had Been in Prison and an Asylum.

ORANGE, N. J., Nov. 10.—After a search of many months Maggie Crandall, who set out from her father's home in Hackettstown, N. J., in March to visit friends, has been found.

Her sister Alice brought her to her own home in this town yesterday, thin, weak and wan, but convalescent from both physical and mental illness, the result of an experience which, it is to be hoped, is not common.

Margaret Crandall was reared in a plain and simple fashion by her parents. She left home to visit friends in New York. Suddenly she found herself charged in a New York police court with theft, insubordinately feeling that even though innocent she would be disgraced if she gave her real name, she told the court that she was "Alice Johnson." She was adjudged guilty in spite of her protests of innocence, and was sentenced to five months on Blackwell's Island.

None of her friends was informed of her trouble, and she simply "disappeared." In the penitentiary she perished incessantly over her trouble, and finally, after a few weeks, her mind gave way under the strain and she was removed to the State Asylum for Insane Criminals at Middletown.

There she remained till yesterday, when her sister secured her release. William H. De Wolf and William Huyler, of Orange, signing a bond that she would not become a public charge.

The Republicans and Independents will attend the meeting and return from the "Harbor" district in Castleton. The corrected returns elect Dr. William A. De Wolf, the Republican, for the southwest corner of the Park at the junction of Mail street and Broadway.

The change was made because the northwest corner of City Hall Park has been designated as part of the site for the new City Hall.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 10.—Edward Carman, a collector for Mulford & Vreeland, cracker manufacturers, of Broad street, has been missing since Tuesday. He had $95 belonging to the firm which he had collected.
